People who attended the I. O. O. F. celebration at Fredericktown last Thursday report a very pleasant time, and say that a large crowd was in attendance. Quite a number were in attendance from this county.

Among the attorneys in attendance on circuit court the past week were: A. Saffold, W. A. Isenberg, St. Louis; L. F. Dinning, Potosi; M. W. Huff, Farmington; J. H. Raney, Greenville; James Orchard, T. H. Mauldin, N. A. Mozley, Poplar Bluff.

To our young friend, Geo. G. Fox, train dispatcher on the Jonesboro, Lake City & Eastern Railroad, we are indebted for a copy of the Industrial Edition of the Jonesboro (Ark.) Times-Enterprise. It is quite a publication and a credit to its promoters.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of the Arcadia Valley Creamery in this issue of the REGISTER. Mr. Miller is now sole proprietor of the creamery. He has just added an ice cream plant to the institution and solicits the patronage of the public.

Our genial friend, W. H. Thomson of "Valley Home," last Friday received a cablegram announcing the birth of a daughter the day before to Lieut. and Mrs. A. B. Cox, in the Philippine Islands. The news was accompanied with the gratifying announcement that all were well.

The entries for the primary election are closed and the contest, May 19th, will be the mildest ever known in this county. The only contests are for County Clerk and Treasurer. This is in marked contrast to some of the counties round about us, where there are from two to ten candidates for every office.

The last mail came very near being wrecked at the bridge just above the Knob crossing Thursday morning last. The bar coming in the driving wheels on the engine broke. The train was running at a high rate of speed, but neither the engine nor none of the cars left the rails. A delay of a couple of hours resulted.

Attorneys John H. Raney of Greenville, and James Orchard of Poplar Bluff are attending court here this week, and it is said their purpose is to secure a temporary injunction restraining the county court of Wayne county from paying the expenses of the recent local option election in that county on the grounds that the election was illegal.

Fathers Wernert and Adrian of Arcadia were called to Farmington last week by the death of Father Twomey. The deceased was quite well known in the Valley, having one time been pastor of the church at Iron Mountain. The deceased was a most popular man, and the news of his death will be heard with sorrow by his many friends.

The REGISTER this week prints the announcement of Joseph A. Reagan as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for County Treasurer. Mr. Reagan was born and reared in this county and is well known to many of our people. He promises that if he is nominated and elected that he will at all times give his best attention to the office that he seeks.

A. J. MAY, Pastor.

William Steffens and John A. Kerwin of Graniteville pleaded guilty in the circuit court last week to selling liquor on Sunday, and were fined $50 and costs. Other cases against them were continued. John G. Gassman of Middlebrook also pleaded guilty to selling liquor on Sunday and was fined $50 and costs, with the admonition by the court that the fine would be doubled for the next offense.

Mrs. J. C. Dyar came down from St. Louis Wednesday with her niece, Miss Nellie Crumb, and B. C. Harrison accompanied them to Jackson, where he and Miss Crumb were quietly married at the home of a relative of his. Then they returned to the Cape and next morning Mrs. Dyar returned to St. Louis and Mr. Harrison and his bride went to their Bloomfield home.—Cape Girardeau Progress.

John S. Benson of Annapolis was tried in the circuit court Monday on the charge of selling liquor without license. The jury found him guilty and fixed his punishment at $100 fine and costs. The next day Benson pleaded guilty to seven more charges and was fined $20 and costs in each case. Some nineteen indictments against the defendant on similar charges were dismissed, because of a misspelled word in the indictments.

In the circuit court Monday morning Judge Williams rendered a decision in the case of Catherine Immer vs. E. B. Immer, executor. This was a suit instituted to set aside a final settlement made in the probate court, which settlement the plaintiff alleged was in violation of the will of her deceased husband. The case was argued at the October term 1905 of the court. The court's decision Monday was in favor of the plaintiff. The defendant will appeal to the supreme court.

Deputy Game Warden Revelle of Bollinger county was in Ironton last week, on his way from a visit to the Silver Mines dam.

Mr. Revelle says that the dam is a most flagrant violation of the present game law, and it will have to be torn down unless a chute is built. This latter would cost in the neighborhood of $2000, and the owners of the property, it is not thought, will want to go to any such expense. The property at present is said to be under the control of A. H. Hanlan of St. Louis.

In our announcement column this week will be found the name John W. Harral of Bellevue, who is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for County Treasurer. Mr. Harral is one of our most worthy and best known citizens, and has been a resident of this county for many years. Should he be chosen to fill the office of Treasurer, there is no doubt but he will most efficiently and satisfactorily discharge the duties of that very important position. His claims are entitled to, and will receive, careful consideration at the hands of the voters May 19th.

James Louis Manes, a deserter from the United States Navy, surrendered himself to Sheriff Marshall Monday evening of last week and asked that the naval authorities at Norfolk, Virginia, be notified. The sheriff sent a telegram to Norfolk that night, and next day received a reply stating that Manes was wanted there and that transportation would be furnished for his return. Manes deserted last September and has been roaming over the country ever since. He was broke and out of work and concluded he would return to his ship, take his punishment and re-enlist. County Clerk O'Neal left last Friday with the deserter for Norfolk.

The Green-Goodykoontz will contest case was tried in the circuit court here last week, and occupied the attention of the court from Wednesday noon until Friday night. The case was one wherein Mrs. Minnie D. Green, sister of the late Mrs. E. E. Southall of Caledonia, sought to set aside the will of the latter because she had bequeathed a portion of her property—house and lot in Caledonia—to Dr. W. R. Goodykoontz of Caledonia. Mrs. Green alleged that Dr. Goodykoontz had secured the bequest by reason of undue influence over the testator. The case was tried by jury, which returned a verdict permitting the will to stand. The value of the property left to Dr. Goodykoontz is perhaps $1000. There was a large array of testimony on both sides.—Potosi Journal.

Considerable of the time of the circuit court was occupied last Wednesday securing forty qualified jurors in the case of State vs. John and Amalek Brooks for the killing of John Clemonds at Graniteville, August 12, 1905. Thursday morning the attorneys had made their challenges and about ten o'clock the hearing of evidence began. The State introduced about a dozen witnesses and unquestionably made a strong case. The evidence was just about the same as that adduced at the coroner's inquest at the time of the killing. About dusk on the evening of the murder a number of men were standing near Kerwin's saloon canning beer. Gus Mead was sitting on the railroad track with a shotgun in his hands. Amalek Brooks walked up to him and tried to take the gun away from Mead. Brooks' brother, John, came up at this time and the two of them finally succeeded in getting the gun, which John held while Amalek gave Mead a terrible beating. When he got through with Mead Amalek asked "where's Johnnie Hall?" (Clemonds frequently was called Hall.) About this time Clemonds came round the corner of the saloon a short distance away and Amalek commanded John to fire. John fired the gun and Clemonds fell to the ground mortally wounded. Just previous to the shooting of the gun and almost simultaneously with it was the report of a revolver, and an examination revealed that Amalek Brooks had been shot right below the left nipple. None of the witnesses for the State could testify who fired this shot, although several of them stated positively that it was not Clemonds. Both of the defendants, when they went on the stand in their own behalf, swore positively that when Clemonds came in sight he had a revolver in his hand, fired the shot at Amalek and was about to shoot again when John killed him. Two defense witnesses, but none of them were important, and the taking of testimony was completed Friday evening. The court gave the instructions to the jury next morning. The instructions were for murder in the first degree or acquittal. Mr. Damron opened the argument for the State. Mr. Rivers spoke for the defendants and Mr. Edgar closed for the State. The case went to the jury about four o'clock, and in less than an hour the verdict was returned finding the defendants guilty of murder in the first degree. The court room was crowded and the stillness of death was there as the verdict was announced. The defendants' attorney asked for a poll of the jury and each of the twelve declared that was his verdict. The defendants, apparently, were much startled and surprised at the verdict. All during the trial they had assumed an air of indifference, and it is said, expected an acquittal. They were alone in such expectation, however, for nearly every one who heard the evidence concluded the jury would do just what it did do. Court then adjourned until Monday. Some day this week, before court adjourns Mr. Rivers, attorney for the defendants, will file a motion for a new trial, and in case that is overruled he will appeal to the Supreme Court. The jurors who tried the case were: G. G. Henderson, foreman, H. C. Jackson, Lee Ruble, Chas. Shaver, Wm. Hurst, David McKinney, James Moore, Fred Schultz, Wm. Depew, Chas. Lashley, Cortland Barton, Thos. Hart. It is understood that in asking for a new trial the defense will submit the affidavits of Gentry Harbison, Fred. Mayes and — Barnes of Pilot Knob, stating they heard Charles Lashley, one of the jurors, say, before the trial, that the Brooks ought to be hung.

Fourth of July Picnic.

A movement is on foot to hold a big Fourth of July celebration at Arcadia, in which not only the entire Arcadia Valley but practically all of Southeast Missouri will be invited to join. A huge tabernacle tent will be secured from St. Louis, seating perhaps 1500 people, to accommodate the audience at the exercises, which will consist of patriotic addresses by two or three well-known orators. One of the speakers, in all probability, will be Hon. Martin L. Clardy, for many years Congressman from this district. A fine band of twenty-one pieces is to be on hand, and it is the purpose of those in charge of the celebration to make this a memorable event in Southeast Missouri history. Arrangements are to be made for the running of excursions from several railroad points.

Bellevue Items.

Sunny April skies never smiled on a much fairer vale than this at present writing, though we are very much in need of rain. For the past few days farmers in many localities have been compelled to stop breaking for corn, owing to the hard condition of the soil. A few have planted corn, while others are waiting anxiously for copious showers to materially aid them by softening the hard ground, which is remarkably hard.

The writer set out a nice young orchard early in April, and owing to the lack of rainfall, he has been watering the trees for several days.

Monday, the 23d inst., it sleeted here for at least a half hour.

While looking over our daily and weekly papers, reading the news of the devastations, crimes, etc., that actually exist all over our country, we are at somewhat of a loss to properly conjecture what the future may have in store for us. Certainly, if nations are punished for sins committed, we cannot very logically hope for much good to befall us.

Lee Moore, who for years has resided near town, died early Wednesday morning of last week. He was a good citizen and will be greatly missed.

I have been informed that, for the present at least, Mr. Burnham has declined the idea of going into the merchandise business.

Dr. Adams sold a fine horse last week to a gentleman near Caledonia.

Mrs. J. C. Paulus is expected home from Oklahoma this week. She was called there two weeks ago to see her daughter, who was reported to be very sick, and has since died.

Taking moderate exercise daily in the warm sunshine and balmy air the past two weeks, has wrought a great change for the better in the condition of my health. What I had for several months thought to be a serious case of lung trouble, I am now fully convinced is only a case of neuralgia of the intercostal muscles, which is gradually becoming less troublesome.

The death of Mr. Thornton appears to have put a quietus to the mineral boom in this locality, but the mineral exists all the same. The geological formation of this valley is so very identical to that of the famous Flat River region, that there cannot be much doubt of the fact that lead ore exists in paying quantities all through this section of country. But it will not be reached at two or three hundred feet, and those who have drilled in this locality to a depth of two hundred feet, know pretty conclusively just what may be reached at a depth of four or five hundred feet. The writer may never live to see this mineral prospect fully developed, but there are boys living to-day who, before they are as old as I, will see this mineral question a living, tangible reality. Bellevue valley, which to-day appears to smile with all nature's loveliness, will be worked for what is underneath the surface, and the greater part of the surface work will be practically abandoned.

Mr. Smith, who lives on the "Uncle David Palmer" farm, has been confined to his room for several weeks with rheumatism.

Up to date only one candidate has been looking after his interests in this locality. Quiet, indeed, it is.

Several drummers were in town last week.

Obituary.

Hazel, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Lewis, died March 28, 1906, aged two years and six months. Hazel was a sweet and affectionate little girl and loved by all who knew her. She leaves a heart-broken father and mother and a host of relatives to mourn her death. She was laid to rest in the Des Arc cemetery, March 28th. Rev. J. W. Alcorn conducted the funeral services.

Asleep in Jesus—peaceful rest; Whose waking is supremely blest; No fear, no woe, shall dim that hour That manifests the Savior's power.

The Lord is our protection, we hope and believe. Then why do we murmur, why do we grieve? Let's dry our tears, for the cross we must bear. And when we reach heaven we'll meet Hazel there.

ONE WHO LOVED HER.

The reason we do the clothing business is simple. We carry the largest assortment, the most stylish fabrics and give the best values. Lopez Store Co.
